A Memorial Day Litany

Dear Lord: For those who have given their lives for their country and whose graves we will visit this Memorial Day weekend, that they may rest in God's peace and that their sacrifice may inspire in us who live a commitment to the ideals for which they perished,

Lord, hear our prayer.

For our veterans, whom we have sent to far countries on our behalf, and who for us have often endured fear, trauma, and sorrow that no human should have to face, that they may receive healing of their hearts and a welcome home from their towns, their families, and their churches,

Lord, hear our prayer.

For our men and women serving under orders this day, especially those who may be in situations of danger or captivity, that they may be inspired by the ideal of duty, may conduct themselves with honor, may reflect the noblest love of country, and may receive strength equal to every challenge they face,

Lord, hear our prayer.

For families of men and women now on active duty, families of veterans, civilian families who have suffered in time of war, and especially those families whose tables will always have an empty chair,

Lord, hear our prayer.

For our leaders, who have the power to promote peace and justice or to extinguish life itself from our planet, that any and all decisions relating to the use of armed forces may be preceded by prayer and accompanied by agony,

Lord, hear our prayer.

For our church family members that have passed away from this earth to be in Your presence, family members who are left behind to grieve over the loss of their loved ones, and for all who look forward to the day when the hope of resurrection comes to pass, and death no longer holds sway over Your people.

Lord, hear our prayer.

For ourselves gathered here and for all persons of faith, that recognizing the expression in works which must result from an experience of faith, we may be builders of community as well as seekers of salvation, we may seek outer peace as well as inner harmony, and justice for our world as well as fairness for ourselves, to the end that the dwelling of God may be with us, and we shall be God's people, that the former things pass away and war shall be no more,

Lord, hear our prayer. Amen

A Memorial Day Prayer

O God of Life and of History, we gather on this occasion for sacred remembrance and renewal of the Spirit.

We remember with a sense of gratitude and humility the thousands upon thousands who have died in this nation's wars and conflicts.

We come to renew our resolution to make of their deaths a meaning that shall be for peace and justice and the birth of a new hope in the earth.

May we remember this day the dead not only of our nation's wars, but also of all wars in all lands where men, women and children have lost their lives to the harsh and bitter cruelty of human combat.

In our remembrance may we not be puffed up with the overbearing pride of a false and narrow patriotism, but rather may we be endowed with a generous patriotism that reaches out to the human family on every continent and shore.

May we come to love the earth and your universal kingdom of love and justice with a zeal equal to and surpassing our love of country.

Make us more compassionate, loving and forgiving as we call to mind the tragic deaths wrought by so many wars in so many lands that our hearts cannot contain them for fear of breaking.

Shalom, pacem, om shanti. Let peace come in a thousand tongues and a myriad of languages.

May we renew ourselves in that life-long quest for the impossible dream of "Thy kingdom come on earth as it is in the heaven" of our dearest wishes, fondest hopes and heartfelt prayers. So be it.

Amen.
